DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This two story farmhouse located near the Antietam Battlefield is presumably of frame construction and is sheathed with aluminum siding. It is L-shaped with five bays in each dimension. Like several houses in the Sharpsburg area, its roof exhibits a combination of a gable and a hip with the jointure between the front and back section being made with a miter.

The house is said to date from the 1860's.

A frame barn and various outbuildings are located behind the house.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

This complex is significant for its association with the Civil War Battle of Antietam which occurred on September 17, 1862. According to an occupant of the house, the original dwelling on the property burned during the Battle and the present structure was built a year later. A number of houses following this form and dating from the mid 19th century are to be found in the Sharpsburg vicinity.
